Lasting Transformations We've Seen

- "The pain is gone. It's just not there! I thought I'd always just be broken."
- "My desire for alcohol is gone - it's gone. It doesn't tempt me at all."
- "I've never felt compassion for my dad like that - ever!"
- "I just thought I'd have to live with that for the rest of my life."
- "I don't label myself an "angry person" anymore. I understand anger in a new light and have hope to resolve more of it by dealing with the lies underneath."
- "I didn't think I needed this. Was I ever wrong!"

Powerful Principles We Live By

- Our present situation is rarely the root cause of our ongoing inner struggles. Like an iceberg, much more is beneath the surface.
- We can believe something in our head, but not in our heart.
- Emotions are important indicators of deeply ingrained self-beliefs.
- Though our history might include being a victim, we do not need to stay in that role. We all move forward choice by choice.
- Destructive behavior is often a vain attempt at managing inner turmoil.
- Things held in secret hold inordinate power. They must be brought to light.
- Only the Creator can fix His Creation. Only He can free us from the lies we believe.

Much credit for these principles must be given to Dr. Ed Smith from Theophostic Prayer Ministries®. Though we enjoy our relationship with him, we are not affiliated with him or TPM®.

How We Measure Authentic Change

- Every "truth" reported in a ministry session must align itself with God's Word and God's Heart.
- Memories visited that once had pain are now filled with God's truth and peace.
- Anger once held in specific memories can be released and replaced by God's compassion.
- The real test of genuine change will be seen outside of a ministry session.

Prayer Ministry: Our approach is centered on prayer, but it is not our prayers that change you. It is you taking the steps to honestly examine issues in your life, facing the root causes and opening the door for the Lord's Perspective and Truth.
