

Meet Kim Clough

Kim Clough has thousands of hours of combined experience receiving, facilitating and training people in prayer ministry. She has worked with dozens and dozens of ministry recipients to bring Christ's presence and healing to childhood trauma, sexual abuse and assault, marriage issues, addictions, demonization and everyday challenges of living in a fallen world.

She is married to Dwight Clough. Dwight is the author of "The Gift of Transformation" along with several other books. They reside in Sun Prairie, WI with their four children.

Saturday Appointments

Saturday appointments are now available at CrossCounsel Madison with Kim.

To schedule an appointment, contact Kim at thekimclough@gmail.com or call 608-834-8291.

Note: Couples ministry may be available on selected Saturdays. Contact Steve Freitag for details.

Important: Since we do come a distance and we do set aside family time to meet on Saturdays, we ask that you make your donation when you schedule your appointment so you arrive with your appointment "prepaid." Your donation secures that spot in our schedule and protects us against last minute cancellations and no shows. Use the donation button on the website (sidebar on right of any page) to make your donation. Please remember to include a note while you're making your donation so we match your donation with your appointment. We place a $75 value on these Saturday appointments. We understand some are able to donate more to help out with those who need to make a smaller donation.

Why we put a value on your session

Those who have experienced transformation prayer ministry can testify to the life changing encounters they have had with Jesus Christ. Jesus uses this ministry to transform lives and marriages, to deliver people from addictions, to bring peace in the place of panic. None of this happens by accident. By the time someone is prepared to meet with you, that facilitator has gone through hundreds of hours of training and study at their own expense. In our culture, we value what we pay for. Your donation is your way of honoring that preparation and the investment that facilitator is making in your life.
